MISSING WITNESS M'DANIEL CASE FOUND BY STATE

Man Long Sought Is Brought to St. Joseph to Tell Story.

IS FRIEND OF ACCUSED

Disappeared Day Following Murder of Prosecutor's Wife
—14 Veniremen Selected.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 14.—A new witness whose testimony is expected to be the final connecting link in the State's chain of evidence against Oscar D. McDaniel, County Prosecutor, on trial charged with the murder of his wife, was brought to St. Joseph this morning by L. W. Elliott, a detective on the case. This witness has been missing from the city since the day following the murder, July 14. The witness, Elliott declared, possesses not only information concerning incidents just prior to the slaying, but evidence that will convince any jury of the guilt of the defendant.

Mart M. Lockwood, State's Prosecutor, said after a conference with Elliott this morning that the new witness has been sought by the State continuously since the crime.

Is Reluctant Witness.

Closed behind the Attorney-General's office doors, in company with Lockwood and Elliott, the witness reluctantly detailed his knowledge of the case, and produced evidence, according to the State's counsel, that can be interpreted in only one direction.

The witness fled from St. Joseph following the crime because he always had been friendly to McDaniel and did not want to tell what he knew, he declared.

"Only wish it were possible for me to make public now the startling information this man possesses," the detective said.

Half of the special venire of 40 from which will be chosen the jury to try McDaniel, had been accepted at noon today. Attorneys declared the venire would be completed probably another day. Questioning of the prospective jurors indicated the belief the jury would be able to offer little if any, if any, against McDaniel.

The man was asked whether he would inflict the death penalty on circumstantial evidence. Those who declared they would not, were challenged by the State. Both the State and defense expressed satisfaction at the progress being made in the venire selection.

With the resumption of the trial yesterday further details of the testimony expected were learned. It is definitely fixed that the State has no witness to testify that Mrs. McDaniel mentioned the identity of her assailant while she lay dying on a hospital bed.

Lockwood told reporters that Mrs. McDaniel, the mother, and Miss Aileen Moss, the sister of the deceased woman, had been subpoenaed to testify for the prosecution. The scope of their testimony was not divulged and wonder was expressed in the courtroom whether they had reversed their former belief that McDaniel had not committed the crime.

Chief of Police Subpoenaed.

Another witness subpoenaed by the State is J. A. Clouser, Chief of Police, when Mrs. McDaniel was killed. He was a witness at the Coroner's inquest and was before the grand jury. He was notified of the murder immediately after McDaniel reported it to the police and was at the prosecutor's home within an hour.

The State also announced, confirming a previous statement made during former sessions of the trial, that C. A. Cook, head of the local telephone company, will not be called to testify against McDaniel. Cook was a close friend of both the prosecutor and the defense and was a grand jury witness.

GETS SIGHT BACK AT 90

Alton Angler No Longer Depends on Bell When Fishing.

No longer is it necessary for Col. A. F. Rodgers of Alton to hear the tinkle of a bell on his fishing pole before he learns he has a nibble. The sight in one of his eyes has been restored by the removal of a cataract.

A veteran of the Mexican and Civil Wars, he underwent an operation in a St. Louis hospital on his ninetieth birthday. He had been blind for several years, and as he was an ardent angler he rigged up a bell on the end of each fishing pole. He also rejoices in his ability to walk down the street and hail his acquaintances by name without waiting to hear their voices.

THIRD FRACTURE CRANKING CAR

Belleville Doctor's Arm Broken Three Times in Two Years.

Dr. J. W. Twitchell of Belleville, for the third time in two years, fractured his arm when cranking an automobile. Yesterday, after breaking his right arm above the wrist, he cranked the engine of his Ford car with his left hand, and then drove a mile to his office, where the fracture was set by his brother, Dr. B. E. Twitchell.

The first fracture resulted from cranking his seven-passenger machine. The Ford caused the other two injuries.

Representative Doremus of Michigan, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, declared at the White House today that control of the next House of Representatives still was in doubt. He declared the Democrats were certain of 212 votes and the Republicans of 211, with nine districts still in doubt.

Movement to Recount West Virginia

Vote: Some Ballots Missing.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 14.—With the announcement by J. B. Handland, an attorney of Wheeling, that a recount of the ballots cast in Ohio County Nov. 7 will be demanded on behalf of "President Wilson and Senator Chilton," and that similar recounts will likely be demanded in every county of the State, interest today centered on the disposition of the ballots.

It is declared that about half the ballots cast in one precinct in Charleston are missing.

It is believed that the missing ballots were cast in a neighboring room.

Children Not to Be Called.

St. Louis' announcement also disclosed that the three small children of the prosecutor, Marion, 6 years old; Helen, 8, and Odell, 10, probably will not be placed on the stand by the defense. Odell, the defense explained, was in the country when the murder was committed and the two younger children were asleep in an adjoining room.

CABRERA PREVENTS AGREEMENT ON U. S. TROOP WITHDRAWAL

Vigorous Opposition on Principle of ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 14.—Vigorous opposition today by Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican representation, prevented a formal agreement by the Mexican-American Commission on the principle and essential points of the plan for the withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico and other points that have arisen between the two countries.

The Coroner yesterday decided that the sudden death Sunday of Mrs. Lottis Hover, 42 years old, 300 Gay Avenue, East St. Louis, was caused by an overdose of headache tablets.

Mrs. Hover was found in convulsions. She had been suffering from neuralgia pains, and an empty box, that had contained about 30 headache tablets, was nearby. Two of the pills made a dose.

INQUIRY INTO ALLEGED MISUSE OF CAMPAIGN MONEY

DRY VOTE OUTSIDE OF ST. LOUIS SHOWS GAIN OF 107,174

ADMINISTRATION

OFFICIALS

DECLARE

INVESTIGATION

WILL BE MADE

BY THE SENATE.

CONTESTS ARE EXPECTED

EVIDENCE BEING GATHERED

IN ILLINOIS WHERE NEW

WATSON WAS ELECTED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A senatorial investigation of alleged misuse of money in the presidential campaign was announced definitely today by administration officials. Preliminary plans have been made and a resolution providing the machinery for the inquiry is ready to be introduced soon after Congress convenes.

It was stated today that evidence was being collected, but its details were not disclosed. The plan is to call those actually in charge of campaign finances before the Senate committee and investigate the details of their transactions.

Various reports concerning the use of money in certain states have come to Democratic headquarters as well as Republican headquarters.

Investigation into alleged attempts to colonize illegal voters in Indiana and West Virginia particularly was begun several weeks before the election. In those states Democratic leaders are planning to contest the election of United States Senators. Before the polls had closed last Tuesday charges of corruption were being openly made by Democratic chieftains.

Evidence is being gathered upon which to base contests in the election of Harry S. New and James E. Watson as Senators from Indiana and Representative Howard Sutherland as Senator in West Virginia. New, on the face of the Indiana returns, defeated Senator Moberly. Kern and Watson were from Senator Taggart. Sutherland, in West Virginia, defeated Senator Chilton.

Contest in Senate.

It has been charged by Democrats that negroes were colonized from the South in states where the Republicans triumphed by small majorities. Contests are brought by them to have been initiated in the new Senate by each legislative body is the judge of its own members. The Democrats will control the new Senate by a majority of 2583 against prohibition.

Other surprises included Jasper County, which includes Joplin and Carthage; Pettis County, which includes Sedalia, and Randolph County, which includes Moberly. All had majority in favor of prohibition.

The prohibition election does not indicate that the cities of the state are in favor of saloons, or that the agricultural districts are opposed to them as a unit. Some of the largest agricultural counties of the state voted against prohibition, including Boone, Fayette, Cooper, Knox, Lee, Limestone, Madison, Marion, Perry, Robertson, Ralls, Ralls, Saline, and Vernon, all of which are controlled by the men of their cities. In fact few of them contain cities of importance, and in most of them saloons long ago were voted out.

No Change in Situation.

It is to be understood that the election last week does not change the saloon situation in any county. There are only 18 of the 114 counties which are "all wet." In a few other saloons are permitted in the few of the larger towns. These "counties and towns will remain unopened in a matter of permitting saloons until they vote under the State local option law, either for or against saloons.

The counties from which returns have been received are as follows:

In favor of saloons: Andrew, Barry, Barton, Bates, Camden, Carter, Cass, Christian, Clinton, Clay, Clinton, Dade, Dallas, Daviess, Dunkin, Gentry, Grundy, Harrison, Henry, Hickory, Holt, Howard, Howell, Jackson, Jasper, Johnson, Laclede, Lawrence, Lewis, Linn, Livingston, McDonald, Macon, Mercer, Mississippi, Monroe, New Madrid, Newton, Nodaway, Oregon, Pemiscot, Pettis, Pike, Pulaski, Putnam, Randolph, Ripley, Schuyler, Scotland, Shannon, Shelby, Stoddard, Stone, Texas, Taney, Webster, Worth.

Against prohibition: Audrain, Benton, Bollinger, Boone, Buchanan, Callaway,蔡加爾, Carter, Clark, Cooper, Crawford, De Kalb, Del. Franklin, Gasconade, Iron, Knox, LaFayette, Lincoln, Madison, Marion, M'ler, Monteau, Montgomery, Osage, Perry, Phelps, Platte, Ralls, Reynolds, Saline, Scott, St. Charles, St. Francois, St. Louis, St. Louis city, Vernon, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Butler.

While the statement does not name any states it is known that a large force of special agents has been working in Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, New York, Illinois, Indiana and other states.

Officials are asked to say, in what states evidence has been obtained.

Speaker Clark returned to Washington to confer with other Democratic leaders over the House organization.

The Speaker will be a candidate for re-election in the House and the seems to be no likelihood of opposition to his election in the event of a Democratic majority.

Details Are Withheld.

No details of the progress of the investigation can be given as this would be contrary to the general practice of the Department and would manifestly mitigate against the proper enforcement of the law.

No further announcement with regard to the matter is contemplated. Such action as may finally be taken will become public known when prosecutions are instituted in the districts where the law has been violated.

RUSSIANS RETIRE TO RUMANIAN LINE

Berlin Reports Successful Attacks in North Transylvania; Progress South of Tulgheas Pass.

BERLIN, Nov. 14, by wireless to Sayville. Russian forces have retired from the Carpathian Mountains, in Northern Transylvania, to the Rumanian frontier, as a result of German and Austro-Hungarian attacks, says today's German official statement.

To the south of Tulgheas Pass, the statement adds, Bavarian and Austro-Hungarian battalions made progress despite the tenacious defense of the Rumanians.

Berlin Admits Progress of British on Ancre.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 14.—The stubborn defense made by the Germans of the positions near the river Ancre, which were attacked yesterday by the British caused the defenders to suffer important losses, the War Office announced today. The capture by the British of Beaumont-Hamel and St. Pierre Divison, with the latter's connecting lines, is reported.

The official statement says:

"Western theater Army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht. On both sides of the River Ancre yesterday there was violent fighting."

"Strong British attacks, prepared by concentrated artillery fire of the heaviest calibers, were launched against our positions forming an angle to the southwestward. The enemy, under considerable sacrifices, succeeded in pushing us back from Beaumont-Hamel and St. Pierre Divon, together with the lines adjoining leading into the prepared positions.

"Our tenacious defense caused us considerable losses."

"Other places on the front were under attack from the east of Reutene, as far as the south of Grand-Court. Wherever the British had entered they were ejected by the brisk counter attacks of our infantry."

"French attacks in the sector of Sallies-Sallies failed."

Vacancy on International Board.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Great Britain is taking steps to fill the vacancy caused by the death of one of the members of the Permanent International Commission created by the British-American Treaty of 1914 to settle disputes between the two Governments which are not adjustable by diplomatic methods. Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of War Trade, made this announcement today in reply to a question in the House of Commons.

Two British Steamers Sunk. Swedish Steamer Seized.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Lloyd's announces that the British steamers Caterham, 1084 tons net, and Morasan, 3488 tons, have been sunk. The crew of the Morasan has been landed, but her captain was lost.

A dispatch to Reuter's from Malmö, Sweden, says the Swedish steamer Rhee, bound from Malmö for Stockholm with a general cargo, has been seized and taken into a German port.

German Attack in the Champagne Repulsed.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—A strong German detachment made an attack last night west of Aubervilliers, in the Champagne, the War Office announces. The assault was checked by the French. South of the Somme, in the vicinity of Poissore, there was active artillery fighting.

Tenants Redouble Their Efforts Against Rumania.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Redoubled efforts are being made by the Austrians and Germans against Rumania, Reuter's Bucharest correspondent reports.

Powerful Teutonic reinforcements have been sent to the region of Orsova on the Danube in Hungary near the Rumanian border. In this region the struggle is continuing stubbornly, every effort being made by the Austrians and Germans to recapture the town and re-establish communication by way of the Danube.

Fighting is also especially severe at two points in the Carpathians; at Orsova and in the Jiu Valley, where the invaders are seeking to "break through to Craiova."

BRITISH SURPRISED GERMANS ON ANCRE GETTING BREAKFAST

Ate Prepared Meal and Let Prisoners Wait Till They Got to Rear.

Copyright, 1916, by the Associated Press.
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Nov. 14.—The Germans apparently were completely surprised by this morning's attack in the Valley of the Ancre. An evidence of this was found in the fact that the garrison of the trenches around Beaumont-Hamel were preparing for breakfast when the British infantry stormed the position. The British, after partially clearing the underground galleries and rounding up 700 prisoners, ate their prisoners' breakfast, telling them they would be fed when they arrived within the British lines.

Nearly 400 prisoners so far have been sent to the cages, including a regimental commander who was captured in a dugout with a Major, an Adjutant and a number of other officers. The majority of the prisoners are Silesians and, according to the British officers, very inferior fighting material.

Depended Upon Defenses.

The German higher command depended apparently on the supposedly impregnable character of the old front line and its strongly fortified villages, rather than on the stamina of the troops. The British officers believe the Germans withdrew their best men for service elsewhere on the British front, where the new and shallow positions demand greater resisting power on the part of the infantry.

The British losses were unusually light, owing largely to the unexpectedly feeble character of the machine gun fire at Beaumont-Hamel and St. Pierre Divon. Large numbers of German dead were found in the wrecked trenches of the original main line. This line consisted of four parallel trenches, the last being flush with the western face of Beaumont-Hamel.

SOCIAL HYGIENE CONFERENCE WILL BEGIN HERE NEXT MONDAY

National and Local Societies, and St. Louis Committee of One Hundred to Meet Jointly.

The University City Improvement Association will hold a mass meeting tomorrow night in the high school building to discuss the water rate question relating to University City and Maplewood, and to protest against increase in water rates affecting residents in those two towns. The new water rate became effective Nov. 1 and was fixed by the Public Service Commission after an investigation requested by consumers of the West St. Louis Water and Light Co. It is claimed that the rates have been increased to 52 per cent. W. H. Henby, manager of the water company, says that this is not true, and that the new schedule of rates benefits the small consumers.

He says the income to the water company under the new rates is about the same as under the old, explaining that the increase falls upon the larger consumers. Under the old rule the charge of $4.50 per quarter provided the consumers did not use more than 7600 gallons of water. The new charge is at the rate of 55 cents per 1000 gallons, $0 for 2000, $0 for 40,000, $0 for 125,000 and all over 300,000 gallons, 30 cents per 1000.

The average consumer uses under 7600 gallons per quarter. Henby claims that according to these figures, the small consumer will get his water cheaper and that there is no cause for complaint.

Carranza officials announced last night that the men would be released.

Country snipers, scattered in profusion in the craters and other shelters, began firing in the backs of the attacking troops and necessitated their withdrawal north of Cerny. The British gained ground, but owing to the failure of the advance immediately south, the position is subjected to an enfilading fire from higher ground in the neighborhood of the village.

A number of isolated pockets are being cleared of Germans in the intervening ground between Beaumont-Hamel and Beaumont-en-Ancre. The British are firmly established on the western outskirts of the latter hamlet. The remaining fragments of the old German line, immediately south of the Ancre, which were pinched out by the British flank pivoting the northeast around the above of the stream, had been partially isolated since the capture of Schwaben redoubt. Three hundred Germans, the only survivors of the bombardment, were captured in an extensive system of riverside caves, and the German rear was reached by a causeway across the Ancre, which could be traversed only at night.

JURY CHALLENGES TOMORROW IN THE LEWIS MURDER TRIAL

Defense Indicates It Will Try to Show That Policeman McKenna Was Shot Accidentally.

Atorneys for the State and the defense in the case of Roy Joe Lewis and Ora Lewis, charged with the murder of Policeman John McKenna, on April 7, are making final touches to the 12 men who will decide the fate of the accused. The panel of 12 residents was selected yesterday evening. The State has 15 challenges and the defense 20. These will be made tomorrow morning and the 12 men remaining will be the jury.

It is expected that the trial will last two or three weeks. Questions asked yesterday by Martin Welas, attorney for the Lewis boys, yesterday, were construed as indicating that he will try to convince the jury that Ora Lewis shot McKenna by accident and that Roy Joe Lewis had nothing to do with it.

The British losses were unusually light, owing largely to the unexpectedly feeble character of the machine gun fire at Beaumont-Hamel and St. Pierre Divon.

Large numbers of German dead were found in the wrecked trenches of the original main line. This line consisted of four parallel trenches, the last being flush with the western face of Beaumont-Hamel.

For some days the sector attacked today and the area behind had been subjected to successive bombardments, which rose to a record pitch yesterday, and resulted in the demolition of a large part of the defense. The Germans accepted the morning's deluge of shells as part of the usual daily program and did not realize their danger until the British infantry was upon them in the half darkness.

The British advance north of Beaumont-Hamel was held up on a front of about 1000 yards west of Sarre. The first detachment captured some German trenches and passed eastward toward the village.

The paper points out anew, however, that the solution of the difficulty and the future relations between the two countries depend wholly on Norway and the further explanation it may choose to make, and not upon Germany, which is watching developments with calmness."

Save $175 Now On the World-Record-Breaking HUDSON SUPER-SIX

You can save $175 on such a car as has won all worth-while records if you buy before December 1st. On that date we begin manufacture of cars made from materials that have advanced enormously in cost. There is to be no change in models. Some dealers have still a few cars due them of the present production. They can take care of car buyers up to their allotment at the present prices. But you must act quickly if you wish to obtain the saving.

This season's output of Hudson Super-Sixes is built of materials contracted a year ago. Our present prices are based on their cost.

Our next production, starting December 1, will be built of materials contracted lately. The costs have enormously advanced. And, to cover that added cost, our price on the Hudson must advance $175.

So cars of our present output, which dealers have still unsold, are the last Hudson Super-Sixes to be sold at present prices. We urge you to get one if you can.

There will be no change in motor, chassis or body. You get the same exclusively Hudson Super-Six motor. You get the same chassis, which in every worth-while test has shown endurance beyond what any other car has proved, and you get the same beauty and luxurious body with all its excellencies of detail. Changes, if any, will be slight. So $1475 now buys the same car as $1650 will next month.

It Can't Be Helped

We dislike these price advances fully as much as you do. They limit the number who can buy Hudsons.

But the Super-Six motor makes the Hudson supreme in performance and endurance. And we must continue to match that supremacy in quality and luxury.

We cannot skimp on this car if we wish to keep our pinnacle place. Nor shall we add an extra price for prestige. We add only our added costs. The new Hudson prices will be nowhere near as high as numerous other fine cars.

But that is a later question. Today you can save that $175 if your dealer has any cars left.

HUGHES LIKELY TO GET ONE OF IDAHO'S ELECTORS

Man on the Democratic Ticket Was Also Elected to the Legislature.

IS CONTRARY TO LAW

Statute Says No One Holding State Office Is Eligible to Electoral College.

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 14.—Because James E. Pincock, one of the four Democratic presidential electors chosen in Idaho, also was a candidate for the State Legislature from Custer County and was elected, Idaho's electoral vote, instead of being four for President Wilson, is likely to stand three for Wilson and one for Hughes. It was reported here today.

The law disqualifies any presidential elector who is also the holder of a State office and Pincock's eligibility probably will be tested, political leaders here declare. If he is disqualified the highest Republican elector may cast his vote.

The enormous increase in Idaho's vote, estimated at about 35,000 over the vote of two years ago, has led to an official canvass of that entire situation.

In Bonneville County, election commissioners threw out as fraudulent 921 votes in two precincts, which so changes the results in that county that the entire Republican ticket leads. Investigations are under way in three other counties.

Hughes Leading Wilson in Minnesota Count by 321.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 14.—Hennepin County returns, official except for one precinct, offset a big Hughes loss in returns from County Auditors received at the State House today. The latest figures are: Wilson, 178,753; Hughes, 179,074; Hughes' plurality, 321. State House returns, tabulated unofficially from County Auditors' sheets, showed a gain of 100 in Benton County for Hughes, but a loss of 106 in Cottonwood and 100 in St. Louis.

President Gains 100 Votes on Count in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—President Wilson's plurality in California has been increased by 100 votes by returns from County Clerks counts available today. The count progressed slowly, and was far from complete in the larger counties. A few small counties reported.

SOUTH DAKOTA LAW PROVIDES FOR DEBATE BY CANDIDATES

Aspirants for President and Governor Must Meet in Joint Argument to Get on Ticket.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 14.—Candidates for presidential nomination will henceforth have to appear in South Dakota to take part in joint debates on their names will not be on the primary ballots in this State, if a primary law enacted last Tuesday under the initiative remains on the statutes until 1920.

Returns received at the Capitol indicate that the so-called Richard primary law was adopted by a safe majority.

The law divides each of the parties into "majority" and "minority" factions, requiring that each faction offer a complete set of candidates in the biennial primaries. Candidates for nomination for President and Governor must challenge one another to joint debate. Failure to accept a challenge automatically strikes the name of the delinquent from the ballot.

EVERYONE SHOULD DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Wash away all the stomach, liver and bowel poisons before putting more food into stomach.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside, no bile to coat your tongue and stain your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attack, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles were taxed and strained with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—ADV.

NEW ENVOY FROM AUSTRIA TO U. S.

COUNT TARNOWSKI
TARNOWSKI

By COURTESY, VASSAR.

NEW AUSTRIAN ENVOY TO U. S. ABLE DIPLOMAT

Count Tarnowski, Successor to Dr. Dumba, Experienced in Washington.

Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

SOFIA, Nov. 11, via Berlin and Amsterdam, Nov. 13.—"It is with no small gratification that I received the news that his majesty, the Emperor, has intrusted me with so important a post as that of Ambassador to America, and I am looking forward to my work and interests in Washington with great interest and much pleasure, the more so because I already know Washington and love it still have friends in America," said Count Tarnowski, the newly-appointed Austro-Hungarian Ambassador to Washington, to me today, when I called at the Austro-Hungarian legation here. (Count Tarnowski succeeds Dr. Constantin Teodor Dumba, who was recalled at the request of President Wilson.)

The new Ambassador to America and the Countess Tarnowski were already having packed the furniture in their large legation home here. The Count will go to Vienna as soon as he can wind up his business in Sofia, as the Austro-Hungarian Government seems desirous that the Ambassador shall proceed to Washington as soon as possible. The Countess will join him in Vienna. They plan to sail from Rotterdam on Dec. 9, on the Nieuw Amsterdam.

The Count and Countess were visibly happy over the appointment. "That I am pleased," the Count remarked. "It is sufficient to say that I have been wanting to return to Washington—where I spent two very pleasant years, from 1888 to 1900, as secretary of the legation ever since my work here has been finished and that, if I were to receive another post to represent Austria-Hungary, I had hoped it would be in America. It will be a great pleasure to cement the commercial relations between Austria-Hungary and the United States."

In getting Count Tarnowski, Washington certainly has drawn a good diplomatic card, among the best that Austria-Hungary had to offer. He is a Pole and proud of it, but none the less a patriotic Austrian. He has not been of the particularist, obstructionist type of Poles, but rather of the broad, liberal constructive, and, I am informed by those in a position to know, is one of the men to whom no little of the credit of the restoration of independent Poland is due.

The Countess Tarnowski was Princess Czetywirinska and is Russian-Polish. She is an accomplished and beautiful woman of natural simplicity and grace of manner. Both the Count and Countess speak good English. The Countess has never been in America. She says she is looking forward with keen interest to the diplomatic life in Washington.

METHODIST PASTORS OPPOSE WHITE HOUSE INAUGURAL BALL

St. Louis Connell Declares It Is Not Most Dignified Method of In-stalling Executive.

The Union Methodist Ministers' Council of St. Louis yesterday unanimously passed a resolution asking President Wilson not to hold the proposed inaugural ball, which custom, it is expected, he will revive next March.

The Rev. C. W. Tadlock, president of the conference and pastor of the Central M. E. Church South, Sixteenth and Pine streets, told a reporter that since the President eliminated the ball from the inaugural program when first elected, that the resolution thought it would be a good thing if he continued that precedent which he set.

"It doesn't occur to us that holding a ball is the most dignified method of inaugurating a President," he said. "We do not think that it is setting the highest example to the nation."

ROCK ISLAND PLAN RATIFIED

Stock and Bondholders' Committees Agree to Assessments.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Committees representing the common and preferred shareholders and debenture bondholders of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway ... today formally agreed to the plan of reorganization of that company.

It provides for an assessment of $40 a share in the form of a subscription to the preferred stock. This is virtually the same plan as was agreed upon last summer after reports were submitted by financial and physical experts outlining the requirements of the company.

Details of the plan will be announced later.

'STARCH TRUST' IS TO BE DISSOLVED IN FOUR MONTHS

Federal Court in New York Finds It Violated Terms of Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The so-called "Starch Trust," representing an aggregate capital of $90,000,000, was adjudged guilty of "unfair methods of competition" in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, and a plan for its dissolution was ordered filed with the Federal Trade Commission within 120 days, by a final decree filed here in the Government suit against the combine by Federal Judge Hand.

The corporate defendants, which include the Corn Products Refining Co. and its allied concerns, are enjoined from continuing unlawful practices, but not, however, from carrying on their business at prices and under methods adopted in good faith "to meet fair, free and bona fide competition."

In order to bring about a situation "in harmony with law," the decree provides that "the factors, business and assets of the Corn Products Refining Co. shall be divided in such manner and into such parts of separate and distinct ownership as shall be necessary for that purpose." It also provides that upon the submission to the trade commission of the plan for doing this, a hearing of all parties shall be held by the commission and its findings reported back to the Court.

The alleged trust, in seeking to obtain a monopoly in starch, glucose, grape sugar and their derivatives, the decree states, threatened, among other acts, the American Maisle Products Co. with an invasion of the business of the Royal Baking Powder Co. if it continued its starch and glucose business and a working agreement was reached between the two. The decree found also that the trust entered the candy business "for the purpose of injuring the National Candy Co." and other confectioners, in order to force them to buy their glucose principally from the Corn Products Refining Co.

It also asserted that by 1910 the company had sufficient producing capacity to supply 90 per cent of the demand for starch and glucose and took steps, by selling at or below cost, to drive independents out of business. The same practice was followed, it declares, in mixed syrup for "the purpose of monopolizing such trade in the United States."

Another method to restrain trade used by the alleged trust, the Court finds, was to "use private communications and opportunities to the railroad officials and employees in the eastbound freight rates on glucose" and to prevent the reduction of rates promised to the independents "in order to injure its competitors."

SECOND LIEUTENANTS WANTED

A large number of vacancies exist in the grade of Second-Lieutenants in the army, and the next examination for candidates to determine their fitness for provisional appointment, will be held beginning Jan. 29.

Civilian candidates must be between 21 and 27 years old when appointed. Officers and enlisted men of the national guard take the same examination as the civilians. Facts about educational requirements and application blanks are obtainable at the local recruiting office. Third and Olive streets. The pay of a Second-Lieutenant is $1700 a year.

Thin Folks Who Want to Get Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be fat up to five pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man, despite past failures. Most people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevails among the masses of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of the body are not strong enough to get into the blood, much of the fat and starch is taken up by the blood vessels until they pass from the body a peck.

As correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive process must be artificially aided with the help of nature has denied them. This can probably be accomplished by eating a diet table with every meal, which is a careful combination of six splendid articles of food, which they mix with the food to turn the sugars and starches of the food into fat.

Mrs. Runge ordered butter and eggs and the man went downstairs to Mrs. George Schebler and told her Mrs. Runge wants' change for a $10 bill. After getting the money he returned to the Runge flat and told Mrs. Runge that he could reach her wagon quicker by going out the front way. He failed to return.

As "Patsy O'Sullivan," a man of the same description, worked a similar trick at the home of Mrs. Kate Keller, 405 Ridge, 26th and Olive street, he announced himself to be "your husband's country cousin" and said he was selling fresh eggs at 30 cents a dozen, pure butter at 20 cents a pound and potatoes at 30 cents a peck.

For Catarhal Deafness and Head Noises

Here in America there is much suffering from earache and head noises. American people would do well to consider the method employed by the English to combat this insidious disease. Everyone knows how damp the English climate is, and the Englishmen are forever suffering from earache. In England they treat earache and head noises as a constitutional disease and use an internal remedy for it that is really very effective.

Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how their head noise and earache were relieved this simple treatment to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven and eight inches away from either ear.

Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with earache, catarhal deafness or head noises, cut out this formula and hand it to your doctor. You will have the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be easily prepared at home.

From your druggist obtain 1 oz. of Permit (Double Strength), about 1/2 the worth. Take this home and add to it 1/2 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved.

Take a tablespoonful four times a day. This will not only relieve the earache, but it will also help to reduce by tonic action the inflammation of the ear.

Take a few drops of the earache oil and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drums, but to correct any excess pressure on the ear drums, and the results it gives are usually remarkably quick and effective.

For earache and head noises, earache in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease.—ADV.

Stix, Baer & Fuller &
GRAND-LEADER
SIXTH-WASHINGTON-SEVENTH & LUCAS

The New York Tribune

—in their issue of Thursday, November 9th, in their column headed "The Ad-Visor," published the following editorial:

"Recently we hear of something which so tangibly expresses our trend toward better things in merchandising that we like to spread it on the record. Some time ago we appeared in St. Louis, where on October 20th, the Stix, Baer & Fuller Dry Goods Company announced in their advertisement that in the future it would not mention comparative prices. This is their statement:

A complete report of our advertisement is then given, with our signature, and they close up the editorial with the following:

"An evolution that is creating a better understanding and a spirit of greater confidence between the merchant and the public. It is a most accurate description of precisely the ideas for which we are contending. Permit the Ad-Visor to congratulate you, gentleman, on your admirable statement on the judgment and forthrightness which inspired it."

Our new advertising policy has surely scored a decided hit throughout the United States, and has received favorable comment from the press in all of the important cities.

RELIEVE HEADACHES WITHOUT DOSING

By Applying Sloan's Liniment to Forehead You Can Stop the Severe Pains

Many headaches are of a neuralgic origin. The symptoms of such headaches are intense and lingering pains in the brow, temples or back of the head.

There is one certain relief that has been known and recommended for years back, Sloan's Liniment. One application and the dull pain is practically gone. It is easily applied without rubbing. Rubbing is unnecessary, as Sloan's Liniment quickly penetrates to the seat of trouble.

Strong muscles, rheumatism, bruises, lumbago, chilblains, sprains and stiff neck can also be most effectively treated with Sloan's Liniment. Cleaner than messy plasters or ointments; it does not stain the skin or clog the pores.

At all drug stores, 25c, 50c, $1.00.

MUTUAL BREWERY CLOSED BY ORDER OF REFEREE COLES

Property, in Receivership, Twice in Two Years, to Be Sold at Auction.

The Mutual Brewery, at Forest Park boulevard and Boyle avenue, was closed today by order of Referee in Bankruptcy Coles. Since Aug. 13, when it went into receivership, for the second time in two years, it had been operated under William Grieser, 2519 South King's highway, as receiver.

Grieser met with some opposition from some of the stockholders, and Referee Coles decided it was best to close the brewery. The property will be sold at auction.

The Mutual Brewing Co. was organized in 1913 by T. H. Nolan, and had more than 2500 stockholders. Principally saloonkeepers as the purpose was to have a brewery owned by saloonkeepers. Nolan, after conducting the brewery a year, killed himself in the company's office.

Among the heaviest losers in the venture are Lorenz F. Padberg of 3900 South Broadway, who was president of the company, and John J. Lavin, a saloonkeeper.

GREAT PLANK MATS FOR CITY DOCK FOUNDATION

Weaving to Begin Within Ten Days, With Timbers Instead of Usual Willows.

Within 10 days, the Heman Construction Co. will begin the weaving of a gigantic plank "mattress," which must be sunk in the river as a preliminary to the building of the municipal dock near North Market street. Director of Public Utilities Hooke told a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday that the contractor already had received some of the 2000 wooden piles and a large quantity of lumber that will be required in the early stage of construction.

The big mattress will be "woven" of planks instead of willow brush, as has been the practice heretofore. This webb of wood will be 80 feet wide and 890 feet long. It will be weighted with stones and sunk in front of the site of the dock to prevent scouring of the river bottom. The mattress will extend 10 feet inside the piers of the dock. Piles will be driven through it to hold it in place. On the rows of piles will be dumped large quantities of stones as a foundation for the walls of the dock.

The dock will occupy part of a tract of land 5200 feet long and from 150 to 800 feet wide, owned by the city. The "quay walls" will be 890 feet long. The width of platform of the dock will be 36 feet until the hollow back of it is filled, when the total area available for warehouses, tracks and roadways will be 400,000 feet. The filling will not be done at once.

For the construction of the "quay walls" warehouses and mechanical equipment there has been appropriated $250,000. The walls will cost $800,000. The rest of the money will be expended for cranes, elevators and a temporary warehouse. Four of the elevators will be 18x20 feet, so as to accommodate wagons and automobile trucks carrying freight to and from boats. Eight other elevators, 15x15 feet, also will be provided. These and a locomotive crane and an inclined conveyor will furnish means for handling the cargoes of four boats at one time. That is the maximum number of boats that can lie at the dock at the same time.

The design of the dock is such that it can be extended as occasion requires for the entire length of the 5200 feet of land owned by the city. It is expected that the first section will be equal to the demands of traffic for the next four or five years.

Director Hooke says that the dock will be finished by Sept. 1, 1917, if the contractor maintains his schedule.

IDENTIFIED AS BLACKMAILER

New York Prisoner Said to Have Helped Get $5000 in Cincinnati. CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 14.—It became known today that Thomas J. Corcoran, president of the Corcoran Victor Co. of this city, recently identified George Bush in New York as one of three men who on October 13, 1915, obtained $5000 from him. Bush is being held in New York in connection with blackmailing operations.

Corcoran said that three men representing themselves to be Federal officers called at his place of business and served him with what appeared to be a warrant charging him with violating the Mann act. Corcoran insisted he was not guilty, but the alleged officers started to take him to jail and he paid them $5000 to set him free.

"Got my feet wet and my clothes damp. I was dressed rather warm and I went from one store to another and I caught cold. I felt the effects coming home and I could hardly talk—'ker choo, my!'

"John you go right over to the drug store and get me something for this cold, I feel so miserable and all fagged out." (John goes to the nearest drug store and gets a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for coughs and colds.)

"I'm so glad you got Dr. King's New Discovery, John. Why I remember when I was a little girl how mother used to give me this for colds, it's certainly pleasant to take and soothes the irritated throat and relieves the congestion, the first spoonful makes me feel better already."

John says: "The druggist told me that Dr. King's New Discovery was an old preparation and that he had sold it as long as he has had the store and when he used to be a drug clerk. He felt pretty sure it would fix your cold and I had seen it advertised. Glad you found an old friend." You try it.

Varicose Veins Are Quickly Reduced and Terrible Eczema Goes Quickly

Strong, Powerful Yet Safe, Surgeons' Prescription Called Moone's Emerald Oil, Has Astonished Physicians.

There is one simple and inexpensive way to reduce varicose veins and get them down to normal, and that is to apply Moone's Emerald Oil. Many physicians and people who have painful, enlarged veins should not neglect them, for they sometimes cause much misery and loss of time.

Moone's Emerald Oil, besides being so marvellously antiseptic, does it at once destroys germs and poisons caused by amoebae and such, removes the redness that such, barbers' itch, salt rheum, and other inflammatory skin diseases cause. It is a powerful antiseptic, quickly absorbed, and even goiters, wens and enlarged glands are dissolved.

It is used in hospitals for boils, carbuncles, ulcers, abscesses and open sores, and is a valuable remedy. With such a good original bottle, which any pharmacist can supply you, is used in all of the above distressing complaints. —Johnson, Enderle-Paulay Drug Co., 1111 Washington Av., St. Louis, Mo., sell a great deal of Moone's Emerald Oil, and will be glad to supply you. —ADV.

BARRYMORE POWERFUL IN ROLE OF WEAKNESS

Galsworthy's Fatalistic Play, "Justice," Presented Almost Flawlessly.

By CARLOS F. HURD.
"JUSTICE is a machine that, when someone has given it the starting push, rolls on of itself."

This sentence forms the text of John Galsworthy's "Justice," which, in an almost faultless production, was seen last night at the Jefferson Theater by a large first-night gathering.

The starting push is given when James How, solicitor, decides that there is "nothing for it but to prosecute." William Falder, the young clerk of weak character who, placing an elopement with a married woman, has caused the firm's check from nine pounds to $9, has left matters in such shape that an innocent fellow-clerk might easily have been blamed for the crime.

From this point, the machine of Justice moves on as inexorably as the march of fate in a play of Aeschylus or Sophocles. The likeliness to the ancient Greek drama is heightened by the comments of Cokeson, the old chief clerk. Sometimes merely garrulous, sometimes showing discernment in his remarks, this figure fulfills the functions which, in the Greek drama, fell to the chorus.

Play Strongly Fatalistic.

Fatalism dominates the courtroom scene, where, with the facts as presented, it is clearly impossible for the jury to do otherwise than to convict and where the Judge, while having the power to show leniency, rightly argues that he is not at liberty, under the circumstances, to use that power.

The third act, surcharged with dramatic power, shows the victim prostrate under the wheels of the machine of Justice. Here is both a development of the main theme, and a digression from it, into the propaganda of prison reform. Its direct lesson is chiefly for the British public; for while prison reform is a vital theme in this country, it would be hard to find an American prison where, as in this play, solitary confinement is inflicted on well-behaved prisoners.

Fatalism reaches its climax in the final act, when the released prisoner and the woman, who also has been in the grip of necessity, confront his former employers and the nerve-racked, overwrought young man learns that she "has not been quite what she ought" in the latter part of his absence. The arguments by which he has persuaded the firm to give him a new chance go for naught as a Scotland Yard man comes to take him away for forging references in a previous desperate attempt to get a job elsewhere. His suicide, at the moment which marks his return to the inferno of prison life, is almost as unescapable as any of the previous developments of the tragedy.

The terrible sincerity of the play was faithfully reflected by the actors. If there is a note of irony in Galsworthy's work, it comes when the cautious and conservative Cokeson says to the broke ticket-of-leave man, "I hope they haven't made a Socialist of you." The shallow nature of the prison chaplain made him, in contrast with the others, seem almost a comical figure, and his testy remarks, the grimaces of an office boy, and the odd snugness of the jury, gave the only relief from the overpowering forces which fastened themselves on the drama's chief figures as the London fog fastened itself on the atmosphere outside the courtroom.

Weakness Powerfully Shown.

John Barrymore, in the role of Falder, was equally remarkable in expression and in repression. Here was no master of his fate, no captain of his soul—only a weak-willed, broken-spirited youth, but with tenacity of his purpose as regarded the care and protection of the woman he loved. In the powerful solitary confinement scene, in which no word was spoken, he showed not the rage of baffled strength, but the rebellion of weakness, which knows itself impotent, but is too feeble to keep from joining in the mad, futile clamor which surrounds it. The acting in this scene was in no sense pastime. It did not merely omit words; it rose above the sight of the clinging Falder, terrified by his own shadow on the wall of his cell, must remain among memorable stage pictures.

Whitford Kane, as counsel for the defense, recited the seven-minute speech, said to be the longest unbroken discourse in modern drama. It took only about seven seconds to convince the audience that he is from the island which has given England and America some of their most eloquent barristers. O. P. Heggs, as Cokeson, showed admirably the workings of a kind of spirit's interest in others' misfortunes, qualified always by his conception of his duty to his employer. Cecil Clevely, who was seen here in a musical comedy role about a year ago, was the office boy, Bertha Mann, as the woman in the case, drew sympathy in a degree which never interfered with the main interest of Falder's fate. Reginald Carrington was a resolute employer, and Wallie Clark, who wore the Judge's woolsack, avoided any showing of harshness which would have misinterpreted the dramatic purpose. He finally interpreted the great sentence of the play, "The Law is what it is—a majestic edifice, sheltering all of us, each stone of which rests on another."

Let anyone should forget that all this was British, the word "clerk" was uniformly pronounced "clark."

Morgan Dancers Furnish Interesting Spectacle.

The Greater Morgan Dancers, headliners on this week's Columbia bill, must excite the envy of all other vaudeville stars who are required to furnish their own costumes. The 16 young women in this classic terpsichorean cast could take a pair of lace curtains and outfit the entire troupe and still have enough material left to make one of those cutie little gimples which bird cages are wearing this season. And the net result would be that the bird cage would look more dressed up than the dancers.

These young women are all college graduates, but not wishing to be ham-their caps and gowns at home when they went on the stage. They are beautiful and statuesque when in repose and uncannily agile in action.

No more beautifully staged and artistic groups dancing act has been seen here in vaudeville. The scenery, lighting effects and what little there is of the costumes are in perfect harmony and the music in thorough accord with the spirit of the production.

The entire act is in pantomime and the plot is developed solely by dancing and posturing. Lovers of the classic dance will find the performance a rare treat.

"It Happened in Nordland," at Park. Under the stage management of Charles Sinclair, who has returned to the Park Theater, there was a marked improvement in the performance at the musical comedy stock theater last night when "It Happened in Nordland" was presented. The chorus was better drilled and the entire performance moved along smoothly and pleasingly. The re-appearance of Sinclair also marked the passing of the theater into the hands of the new management and the debut of a new leading woman. In the latter step the move was not so successful. May Bouton, who appeared in the role of Katherine Pospisil, is an excellent character actress, but hardly measures up to the demands made upon a leading woman in musical stock. Billy Kent carried off the honors of the comedy.

The first of the four new Panama Limited trains of the Illinois Central Railroad, to be operated between St. Louis and New Orleans, will depart from Union Station tomorrow at 4:30 p. m. Forty members of the Business Men's League have signed up to make the initial trip, returning Saturday morning.

A large crowd inspected the new train yesterday. It consists of six coaches—dining car, buffet car, three drawing room sleeping cars and a composite sleeping car containing four compartments, two drawing rooms, library and observation section. The coaches are entirely of steel and are electrically lighted and steam heated. The total cost will be approximately $1,000,000.

Mr. C. E. Gifford, president of the rail road; A. E. Gifford, chairman, general superintendent of the Illinois Central; and S. G. Hatch of Chicago, passenger traffic manager, are accompanying the train on the initial trip.

OPERA SEASON OPENED AT THE METROPOLITAN

Bizet's "Pearl Fishers," Presented in Paris in 1863, Sung First Time in New York.

NEW YORK, NOV. 14.—Richer in repertory, notwithstanding the difficulties caused by the war, and with an increased list of subscribers, the Metropolitan Opera Co. opened its season here last night.

The first night, always one of the important events in the social season, was made the occasion for the presentation of a new work to American opera goers—Bizet's "Les Pecheurs des Perles," and the novelty was enthusiastically received. It was first presented in 1863 in Paris and two acts were sung at the Metropolitan 20 years ago by Mme. Caruso, in the tenor role, and Giuseppe de Luca, baritone, who with Frieda Hempel, soprano, were the stars, already were familiar with the opera. Caruso and De Luca sang the "Pearl Fishers" together in Genoa 18 years ago, and General Manager Gatti-Casazza produced it in his home city of Ferrara early in his career as impresario.

A duet by Caruso and De Luca, and an ensemble ending in a trio with Mme. Hempel, were warmly applauded. Giorgio Polacco conducted.

The season will continue until April 22 and will include the presentation of several novelties, revivals of two new operas—Reginald de Koven's adaptation of Percy Mackaye's "Canterbury Pilgrims," which will be sung in English, and "Francesca da Rimini," by Zandonai.

Smoker by Guardsmen.
The machine gun company of the First Missouri Infantry, N. G. U. S. will hold a smoker at the armory, 220 South Grand avenue, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Youths over 18 years of age are invited to attend. The company needs some new members.

Tremendous damage is done, says the Tobeby Company, by the use of soap and injurious polishers. Correct cleaning and polishing is a simple and easy matter, if done in the right way.

Tobeby Polish, the old secret shop formula of the Tobeby Company, used by them for cleaning their finest pieces and keeping them in beautiful condition, is now sold by leading hardware, paint, drug, grocery, furniture and auto supply stores throughout the country. It is a perfect preparation for auto body requirements; keeps a car clean and looking like new. Cost less than other polishers—25¢.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be made at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of camphor in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothng, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a camphor shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.—ADV.

$100,000,000 LOAN TO ALLIES

U. S. Investors to Take Up British and French Short Term Notes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Participation of the French Government as well as the United Kingdom in the sale of short term treasury notes in this country, reaching a possible total of $100,000,000, is expected by bankers here. Arrangements for the sale, it was learned today, have virtually been completed by J. P. Morgan & Co., financial agents for both Governments. The British notes and probably the French paper, will be 4% per cent exchequer bills, running from thirty to ninety days, subject to three or four renewals.

The plan is understood to have the approval of over a score of bankers and is the result of requests from bankers in various parts of the country for a short-term obligation.

Like a Boy at 50 Bubbling Over With Vitality—Taking Iron Did It.

Doctor says Nuxated Iron is greatest of all strength builders—Often increases the strength and endurance of delicate, nervous folks 200 per cent in two weeks' time.

Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was unable to find him with the blood pressure of a boy, and as far as his vital and vitality as a young man; in fact, the man he really was, notwithstanding his age, and the time he had been ill. The nuxated iron had filled him with renewed life.

At 50 he was in bad health; at 51, a miracle of vitality and his face beamed with the buoyancy of youth.

At 52 he was in good time over iron is the greatest of all strength-builders—often increases the strength and endurance of delicate, nervous folks 200 per cent in two weeks' time.

Take simple nuxated iron, a patent medicine and courageous concoctions and take simple nuxated iron. I am sure you will be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, consumption, rheumatism, heart disease, etc.

The real and true cause which started this disease was nothing more than a weak-kneed condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood.

Don't let your blood change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or how often you eat, you will not grow through you without doing you any good.

You don't get the strength out of it, and you don't grow. You will not grow and sickly looking, just like a plant trying to grow in the dark.

It is not strong or well you will do to yourself to make the following test: See how many steps you can walk in a row.

Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary iron, one tablet per meal, for your meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and you will see how much you have gained. You have dozens of nervous, run-down people who have been saved by taking simple nuxated iron and entirely get strength and endurance and entirely get

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Whiskers Cartoon.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Please state who was the author of the "For God's sake, Charlie, stick out your whiskers" cartoon published in your paper on the evening of Nov. 9. It was the best cartoon I ever saw and was unsigned. Obliging me and others.

GEORE F. LYMAN.

For the information of Mr. Lyman and of many others, Mr. McAdams conceived the idea of this cartoon, and Mr. Fitzpatrick executed it. So many requests for copies of the cartoon have been received, that the Post-Dispatch has had a number of them printed on cards, which can be had at the publication office on request.—Ed. Post-Dispatch.

Noise Offenders.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
It seems strange for any afternoon paper to refer to "discordant and irritating sounds" when it has the power to stop the most discordant, the most irritating, the most offensive, the most maddening and the most unnecessary of all unnecessary noises—the continual howling and screeching of the men who howl when set papers on the street corners, after 10:30 P.M. To compare the roar and hum of the cars to this bedlam is like comparing the purring of a cat to the blare of a foghorn.

The human voice differs from all other sounds.
When it is harsh, rasping, screechy or nasal and at the same time, 60-jung power, it is exceedingly distracting. It, in this capacity, is as unnecessary as it is barbaric.

How much yelping do you imagine it would require to induce us not to buy your paper?

We all want your paper, but minus the incessant howls.

The difference, Mr. Editor, between the U. R.
cars and the blant peace and quiet disturber on the corner is as follows:

One is necessary—the other is not. Somehow the mind subconsciously makes a wide distinction between these two varieties of noise.

The roar of the car means that many thousands are being served, their time saved, their burdens borne.

The "barker" serves no ends but his own. He performs no service that could not be performed in a quiet and respectable manner. He is a nuisance; he arbitrarily monopolizes the sidewalk, discommending the passer-by. He bawls directly in people's ears without regard to sex, age or infirmity, emitting salva as he yells. His voice sears in unutterable hideousness to the highest flame of the highest building and is clearly distinguishable above any other sound.

If requested to make less noise he is arrogant, aristocratic and sometimes insulting. U. R. crews are polite.

The roar of machinery is more soothing than otherwise. We sleep soundly on a rattling train, a chugging steamboat— even on a U. R. car—at times. The rumble of the machine is the clarion of progress. It heralds the ever-rising sun of achievement.

The howl of the barker is but the barking back to a vanished day—the day of the ox-cart, the tallow candle and the town crier.

S. C. LANDRUM.

Where Taxes Pinch Hard.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I am an old woman, married 32 years. I got a little money from a relative, bought a home for $1000. All I have to live on is this home. I get $11 per month rent, and a part of the house to live in. I have some furniture, of course. Now I must pay tax on that furniture. Is it right to take the very bread out of a person's mouth to pay this? I think that those who have $100,000 should pay a cent or so more and let the very poor
off. I have till the 1st inst. to make a report.
I have been very ill, scarcely able to stand, still I must go or they will double the tax, etc. I am not the only one. Still they talk of kindness, the goodness of this country to the poor, old, etc.

Now, good fathers of this great city, get to work and please do something so that the poor
will not have to pay so much.

AN OLD MOTHER.

Another Public Service.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Our committee wishes me to express their sincere thanks and appreciation for the support given us by the Post-Dispatch during the recent school bond campaign.

We realize how crowded for space you have been during the last few weeks due to the political situation, but feel that our cause, regardless of this fact, received just as much publicity as we could possibly expect.

The high civic interest always manifested by the Post-Dispatch concerning matters of real importance to our city, we feel, is generally understood and appreciated by the public. Very simply.

HORACE M. SWOPE.

Secretary the Citizens' School Bond Committee.

COL. GARDNER CARRIED WEIGHT.

If the Democrats can learn anything from experience they will find a valuable lesson in the defeat of John P. Gordon for State Auditor and the narrow escape of Col. Frederick D. Gardner for Governor.

The Major administration was a failure. It was generally recognized as such by the citizens of the State. It was condemned by Democrats as well as Republicans, yet the Major administration was approved and praised in fulsome language by the Democratic convention. The Post-Dispatch warned the party against this blunder, but it plunged headlong into it. The Democratic campaign orators stepped shyly around the sins of the administration. It was not until a short time before the close of the campaign when Col. Gardner, seeing disaster in the Major plank of his party's platform timidly protested against holding him responsible for the Major administration.

In addition to the blunder of the Major plank in the platform there was a greater blunder in the nomination of John P. Gordon for State Auditor. Gordon was the connecting link between the condemned Major administration and the Gardner ticket and was the red rag flaunted in the face of voters who were determined to repudiate the administration and rebuke the party responsible for it. Gordon's unfitness for renomination was universally recognized.

That Col. Gardner ran with Gordon rather than with President Wilson is largely due to these blunders. With a few more mistakes of this kind, even a winner like President Wilson and a campaigner like Senator Read will be unable to save the party.

HUGHES FAMILY IN APOGEE.

Premier Hughes of Australia, newly returned from London, submitted a subscription measure to the people and announced that he would resign if it was defeated. It was defeated. Judge

Hughes of the United States of America submitted his candidacy to an electorate of 100, 000,000 and had it appraised at considerably below 100 per cent. After a stormy two years and three months Minister of Militia Hughes of Canada has just resigned.

Despite her war losses, Russia has increased her population to more than 180,000,000. The Bear's growth may again disturb the Lion.

STOP UNNECESSARY NOISES.

Sh-h-h-h! Nix on that noise. What would Pease say? Policeman Pease of Baltimore, the soft-pedal cop who came here the other day and told us how he put the muffer on Baltimore's noise.

St. Louis has more noises than it needs, but if everybody will help we can get rid of them without calling in the police.

SAFETY EXITS FOR PUBLIC VEHICLES.

It is probable that the Legislature of Massachusetts will take up the question of safety exits from street cars, following the loss of more than 50 lives in the rat-trap style of trolley car at Boston recently. It is a subject that will have to be considered by the lawmakers generally when the traveling public awakes to the dangers from closed and barred cars.

American street cars and railroad cars have absurdly inadequate openings for entrance and exit, with the possible exception of some of the trailers in the cities. The law requires that public buildings, stores and offices have sufficient exits, with doors opening outward. But, although many millions use railway and street cars daily, no provision for safe exit in case of accident has been provided by law. And the corporations are so anxious that no one shall travel free, that all passengers are placed in jeopardy to insure the company's cash register against fraud.

The companies have a right to guard their interests, but not at the cost of the public. More exits, and doors opening outward, must be the demand. Human safety above the nickel and even the dollar.

Now Baltimore is as quiet as Belleville. It has become noiseless town. The people have almost forgotten what a noise sounds like. Street cars never have flat wheels, hucksters never huck under your bedroom window at break o' day, whistles do not whis, milkmen do not ring their bells at unchristian hours, tomcat colloquies no more occur on the back fence, tin pan pianos and screechy, graphophones have all been "scrapped," roosters do not greet the rosy morn and no more is heard the melancholy chant: "Any rage any bones and bottles today."

No, it is not heaven we are talking about. It is Baltimore, Maryland, U. S. A.

All these things we still have in our midst, against the peace and dignity of the city. We can stop it by calling the police, but there is a better way. Let's stop it ourselves. Now, altogether, sh-h-h-h!

Surely, St. Louis should land the land bank.

A NEW FEATURE OF THE WAR.

While the central empires have eaten all their game, the latest order of the French Government, through M. Meline, Minister of Agriculture, indicates the very opposite condition in that country.

The order relates that, owing to the men being away, rabbits, hares, pheasants and wild ducks were overrunning the country and damaging the crops. The order is to have a nation-wide killing of destructive game, and the Government offers a reward of 5 centimes for every rabbit killed, 10 centimes for every hare, and 15 centimes for a pheasant or wild duck.

That there is a definite "provocative lure" to
the bass drum one to be convinced has only to note how easily crowds fall in behind a torchlight procession, or follow the minstrel band
whenever it hits town.

POWER IN POINCE.

Have you the sense of equilibrium? If not,
there is no use to you applying to the Naval Flying Corps for a job. They won't have anybody who lacks the sense of equilibrium. Maybe you think you have it. Maybe you think you are one of the finest little equilibrists in the business.
That won't get you on. They will make you take the very bread out of a person's mouth to pay this? I think that those who have $100,000
should pay a cent or so more and let the very poor
off. I have till the 1st inst. to make a report.
I have been very ill, scarcely able to stand, still I must go or they will double the tax, etc. I am not the only one. Still they talk of kindness, the goodness of this country to the poor, old, etc.

Now, good fathers of this great city, get to work and please do something so that the poor
will not have to pay so much.

AN OLD MOTHER.

The MORALITY OF SOUND.

With the statement that its "music" tends to provoke immorality and arouse all that is base in young people, the bass drum has been banned from student dances by the University of Chicago.
And yet some folks say psychological research is dubious.

Here all these years we've wanted to kick in the bass drum's stats only because of its internally blatant racket, now to find, through science that back of its thunderous booms there is a small, thin beguiling voice more wicked than the whine of sirens.

That there is a definite "provocative lure" to
the bass drum one to be convinced has only to note how easily crowds fall in behind a torch-
light procession, or follow the minstrel band
whenever it hits town.

POSSUMS.

It is a good thing to have that sense of equilibrium, whether in the air or on the solid earth.
It is a safeguard against upsets. Upsets are bad.
They spill the beans and put the machinery out of kilter. Then the enemy comes along and gets your goat and carries it away and you are bumped off to the side of the road and don't count any more.

The world has little use for you if you can't walk a line without wobbling. If you have none of the sense of equilibrium you had better get out and get some. Try walking a line with your eyes open and by and by you will be able to walk it with your eyes shut. Until you can do that you had better not go up in the air or anywhere else where a sense of equilibrium is likely to be needed. There are upsets ahead for the fellow who can't walk a straight line with his eyes shut.

WHAT HAPPENED IN KANSAS.

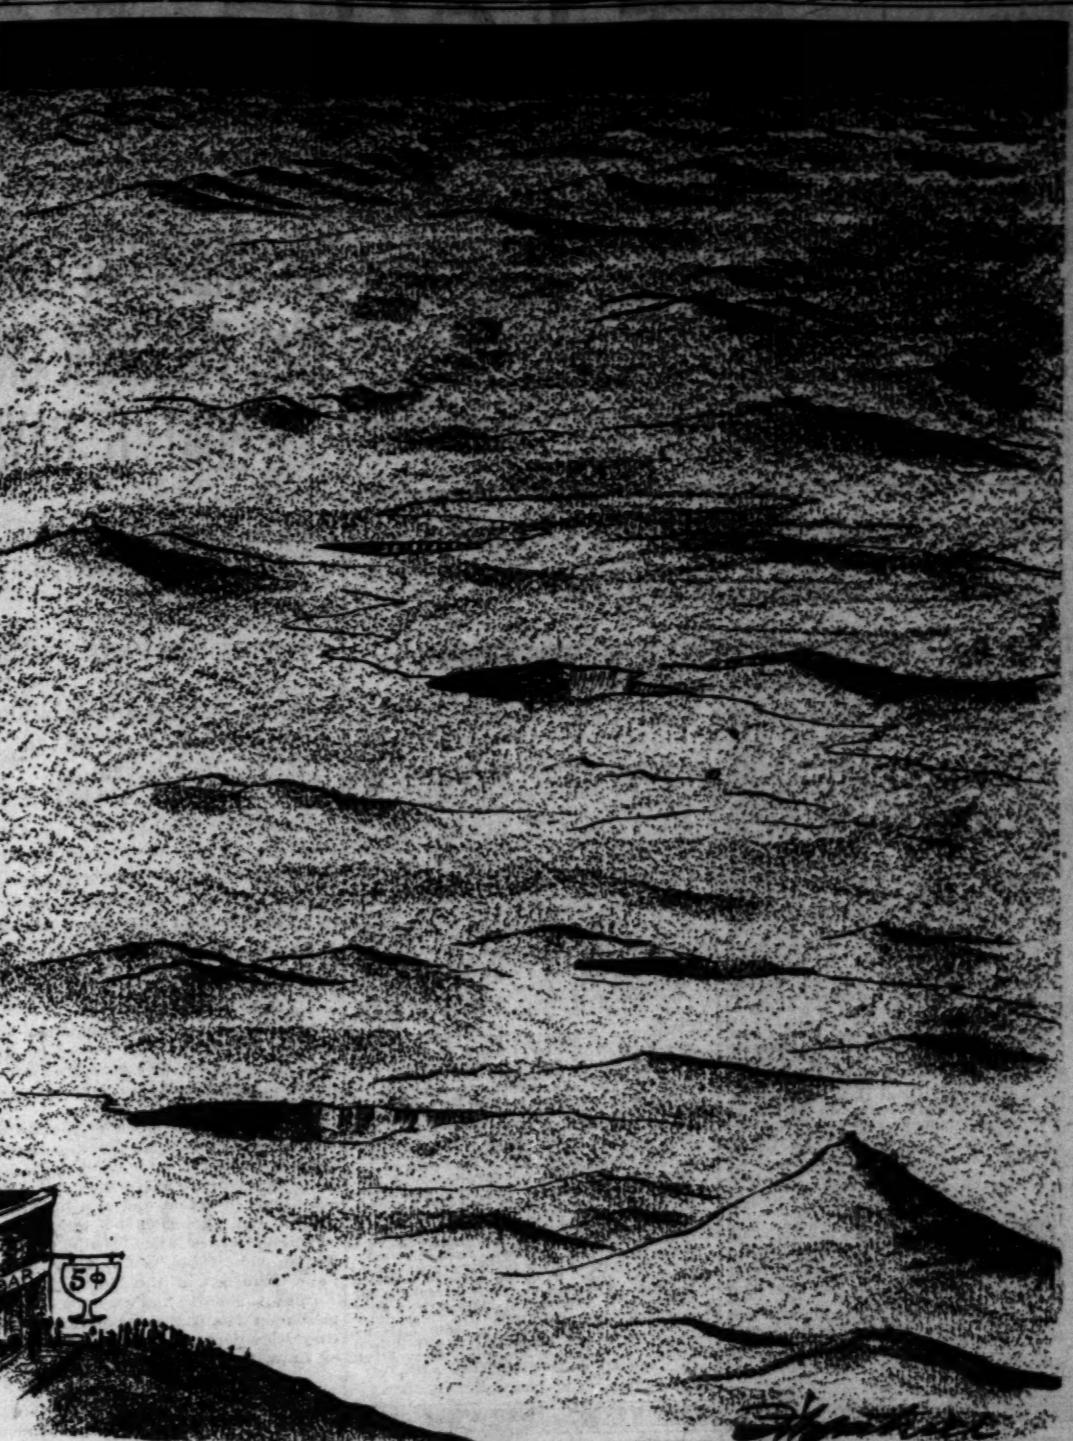

A week after the event our Republican brethren in Kansas are still wondering how it happened.
Their State ticket went through by pluralities of from 40,000 to 75,000, while President Wilson was carrying it by about 30,000. Indeed, almost every Republican brother is lowering at some other Republican brother, suspicion in his heart and a stuffed club under his coat.

After all, it is the reason so hard to find? Gov.
Capper, who was re-elected by an overwhelming plurality, is an outspoken pacifist and it is not on record that he got hot over "Americanism" in the campaign. Col. Roosevelt crossed the State in too big a hurry to him even a bar of "Onward, Christian Soldier!" Vic Murdock remembered the Outrage of 1912 and Vic is one of the best remembers in the business. Nobody heard Bill White shouting himself hoarse for Mr. Hughes and Wall street.

Kansas is proud of its low percentage of illiteracy.
Kansas has been reading while the politicians were spouting. Kansas didn't want war and it knew who "kept us out of war." The Kansas farmer, riding in the automobile he bought with $2 wheat over ground where, a few years ago, he was scarcely able to scratch a living, didn't give a hang about a protective tariff.

Moreover, things which anybody except a politician could understand have been happening in Kansas. Old animosities and prejudices are dying.
The Kansan no longer feels a strange, inexplicable craving to chew tobacco when he crosses the border into Missouri any more than the Missourian nowadays feels his old disinclination to let the sun go down on him in Kansas. Provincialism and sectionalism are moribund in the Sunflower State. Is it too much to hope that some day they will die in South Carolina and New York?

Despite her war losses, Russia has increased her population to more than 180,000,000. The Bear's growth may again disturb the Lion.

Origin of the Linen Collar

The wife of a blacksmith in Troy, N. Y., is said to have been the first person who ever made separate collars for men's shirts. This happened in 1855. Aside from inventing, this woman did the family washing. She found that a collar soiled much more quickly than the rest of the shirt, and she devised a removable collar, which could be replaced by another, attached to the same shirt. At first she made these collars only for her husband's shirts, but presently she began making them to sell outside her home. This innovation attracted the attention of the Rev. Ebenezer Brown, a retired minister, and he, with the aid of the women of his family, went about selling collars. This was in 1855.

All the work on these early collars was done by hand, for the sewing machine had not yet been invented. In those days not more than a dozen collars a day were sold. Their name—"string collars"—was especially appropriate, for they were tied around the neck with a string of tape attached to each end of the collar. Except for the bands, the first separate collars were generally all linen and of two thicknesses, although some were faced with cotton cloth. They were slightly stiffened and had high points extending above the chin on either side. The sewing machine was introduced into the collar industry in 1865, and steam power was first used in 1882.

Suet Pudding

ONE cup suet (chopped fine), 1 cup molasses, 2 cups mixed fruit, 2/3 cups flour, 1/2 cups sweet milk, 1/2 teaspoon each cloves, cinnamon and soda. Mix in order given and steam two hours. For the sauce to be served with the pudding, take 1 tablespoon butter and 1 cup of sugar creamed together; add 1 cup whipped cream, 1 tablespoon of vanilla and candied cherries.

Resinol the tested skin-treatment

If you want to experiment on your skin, there are plenty of treatments to experiment with. But if you want something whose value has been proven by years and years of successful use, if you want a treatment that doctors prescribe constantly, that you know contains nothing harsh or injurious, you will find it in Resinol Ointment, aided by Resinol Soap. It usually stops itching instantly, and rarely fails to clear away all trace of eczema or similar tormenting skin-eruption.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap are sold by all druggists. For trial free, write to Dept. 252, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

The Woman of It

By Helen Rowland

She Tells Why She Won't Marry a Rich Man.

"WHAT makes you look so radiantly happy?" inquired the Bachelor, regarding the Widow's flushed cheeks and sparkling eyes admiringly through the haze from his cigar.

"Oh, because I AM happy, Mr. Weatherby!" sighed the Widow, luxuriously leaning back in the pink damask chair, and clasping her glittering fingers behind her small head. "I have just spent the last dollar of my allowance, and bought a lot of things that I don't need, and can't afford, and probably shall regret dreadfully."

"What a remarkable cause for intense happiness!" interrupted the Bachelor satirically.

"Oh, I don't know!" answered the Widow nonchalantly. "When a man is feeling blue or seedy, he goes out and buys a lot of drinks that he doesn't need, and can't afford, and probably will regret dreadfully—and it makes him intensely happy. He has a champagne orgy, while a woman has a shopping orgy. But it affords her the same relief."

"You ought to marry a rich man!" declared the Bachelor impulsively.

"That's what they all say!" sighed the Widow. "But I've tried to lots of times—and I just CAN'T!"

"YES!" exclaimed the Bachelor gallantly. "What in the world is the matter with the men?"

"Oh, nothing—except that all the nice men are married, before they get rich!" explained the Widow. "If a rich man ISN'T married, it is because he is a hardened, impulsive, dyed-in-the-wool bachelor. Otherwise he would have been snatched up long ago."

"How about the—widowers?" suggested the Bachelor hopefully.

"They don't STAY widowers," sighed the Widow, ruefully, "unless they are girls, or virgins, or—utterly, impossibly unattractive, or woman haters. An attractive, unmarried, eligible RICH man is as rare as the rarest specimen in the Museum of Natural History. In fact, there isn't any such animal! Why, even an attractive, unmarried, rich man can stay unmarried for about 15 minutes after his divorce. That's why I'm so fearfully and unutterably tired of hearing my friends drum into my ears, 'Why don't you marry a rich man? Why don't you marry a rich man? Why don't you marry a rich man?' Ugh!" the Widow shuddered. "The only way to get a rich husband is to take some other woman's!"

"WELL," suggested the Bachelor soothingly, trying to change the subject, "what kind of a man DO you intend to marry?"

"I have no intentions whatever, Mr. Weatherby," answered the Widow, with dignity. "I feel about marriage as I do about appendicitis or death. If it happens to me I am prepared to make the best of it; if it doesn't, why—ditto—and I won't complain. But I'll tell you what kind of a man I think EVERY woman ought to marry—and that is a potentially rich man—a not-yet-but-soon young man, as it were. One who is on the road to success, but hasn't quite arrived."

"Oh, I see!" said the Bachelor thoughtfully. "About—HOW young?"

"Oh—moderately so," said the Widow, tentatively studying the small gold toe of her slipper. "You can't name a man after it has got his second wind. You can't mold a man's character and career to your own liking after they have already been molded, and hardened. But you want to be sure, before you marry him, that he has the qualities that make for success. Then you can take him, and permit him to be just as much of a success as you care to have him."

"But you wouldn't care to have him a complete success, I suppose," remarked the Bachelor sarcastically.

"Not so complete as to be nothing ELSE but a success," answered the Widow promptly, "a lover, a sweetheart, a husband and a father, for instance; yes, and a chum, and a good golf player and an all-around amusing and congenial companion. And a man who gives a little bit of himself to all these essentials to perfect happiness will never have time to become very rich. It is only the human cash registers who acquire millions and millions. A man who doesn't care to be married to a human cash register, Mr. Weatherby, I'd rather be a poor man's light-running domestic, than a rich man's 'after-thought!'"

"Hear, hear!" cried the Bachelor enthusiastically. "Well, I'm a good golfer, anyway, and moderately companionable, and warranted no care for too much, nor to get too rich, nor to treat you like an 'after-thought!'"

"Yes!" interrupted the Widow, with a long, long sigh. "You would make a perfectly IDEAL husband, Mr. Weatherby!"

"Oh, thank you!" cried the Bachelor.

"If you hadn't got your second wind!" finished the Widow regretfully.

Why the Ukelele Haunts You.

YOU are no doubt familiar with the plaintive twang of the Hawaiian ukelele. Perhaps, its haunting, beseeching, sometimes languorous, sometimes indescribable music has had strange effects upon you, has set you a-wonder.

What thoughts of dream-swept nights, of romantic wanderings through tropical groves, laid with moonlight of phosphorescent, glimmering waters, of the sea crowning on incredibly white beaches, the music of the ukelele summons.

For the ukelele belongs to the mid-Pacific and the South Seas where romance and beauty run riot.

The ukelele is nothing more than a large, resonant guitar, which the player holds flat across his knees and plays with a finger and thumb-picks. The small treble often being produced by a small piece of steel which the performer's hand slides up and down over the frets. The ukelele is purely an instrument for accompanying. Very often its music is embellished with that of a flute.

But the ukelele has cast its spell over all Hawaii and the South Seas. It is not generally known that the ukelele is a development of the Portuguese fiddle which was brought to the islands many years ago by a trader. Today it is the national instrument of Hawaii and its plaintive quaver is heard the Pacific over. America has adopted it and the ukelele players have found their way into vaudeville where they are royally received.

The native Hawaiian music is distinctive. It is unlike any other music in the world and comprises love songs, religious melodies and "hulas" or dance songs.

By the more superstitious the ukelele is supposed to cast enchanting spells over men and in the islands stories are told of men who can never get away from its music. The traders of the South Seas became so attached to this strange music that they often carry ukelele players with them on their argosies across the long waters.

Rumanian Royalty.

PRINCESS ELIZABETH, 23 years old this month, is the eldest of the four daughters of King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania. According to reports from Bucharest, the Princess is now wearing the uniform of a nurse, and, like the daughters of the Czar, is devoting herself to the care of the wounded. Princess Elizabeth is a pretty young woman, with a sweet, thoughtful face, and quiet in her tastes. In fact, it is said that she is older in spirit than her mother, who has long been noted for her fondness for gay social life, sports and athletic pursuits. Queen Marie is the daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, better known in England and America as the Duke of Edinburgh, the second son of Queen Victoria, and is a cousin of King George V and Emperor William. Her sympathies and interests have always been English rather than German and it is said that her influence was no small factor in inducing King Ferdinand to assent to the popular desire to enter the war on the side of the allies. Queen Marie is the mother of six children, the eldest, Crown Prince Charles, being 23; Princess Elizabeth, 22; Princess Marie, 17; Prince Nicholas, 13; Princess Ileana, 8, and Princess Mircia, 4, comprise the other juvenile inhabitants of the royal palace in Bucharest. Princess Elizabeth has been mentioned as a possible bride of the Prince of Wales, although Princess Yolanda of Italy seems now to be the favorite for that position.

Efficiency.

A cat did much damage to his papers, the Hindu clerk in charge of the official documents in one of the more remote Indian towns obtained permission to keep two cats, the larger of them receiving rather better rations. A few weeks later the head office at Delhi received this dispatch:

"I have the honor to inform you that the senior cat is absent without leave. What shall I do?"

To this problem there was vouchsafed no answer. After waiting a few days the Hindu sent off a protocol: "In re absence cat, I propose to promote the junior cat, and in the meantime to take into Government service a probationer cat on full rations."

Knicker: Jones watches the clock.

Bocker: His father never got further than listening for the whistles.

ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE
ON FIRST AID TO THE INJUREDPractical Demonstrations Given for Superintendents and Foremen at Granite City.The first round table conference between the superintendents and foremen of industrial plants was held last night at the Masonic Temple at Granite City.Dr. L. G. Harney, chief surgeon of the American Steel Foundries, gave practical demonstrations of first aid to the injured. He showed the foremen and superintendents what to do in emergency; how to improvise a stretcher from a coat; how to care for a fracture until a physician can be reached; how to carry a man with a compound fracture to a physician, or hospital; what to do in case of a hemorrhage to arm or leg or head; why slight injury should not be neglected, in that it might result in blood poison or clauw; and how to treat a small injury. He also gave a practical demonstration of treating cases as the result of electric shock or drowning.St. Louis is the first city to have an industrial survey divided into districts and thoroughly organized in round table conferences. Tonight Field Secretary Prince of the National Safety Council, who has been in St. Louis for a week organizing industrial St. Louis, and Dr.
Wilcox Thorne, chief surgeon of the Commonwealth Co., will organize the Round Table Conference of the North St. Louis district at the Divilo Building, Eleventh and Warren streets.It is proposed that a committee study street traffic conditions and tabulate the deaths and serious injuries from accidents, indicating the location and the cause
as a working basis for the city officials to form future regulations. It is proposed to create a School Safety Committee to work out practical methods for instructing school children in safety.

DAILY SHORT STORY

High Failure

By Millicent Evison.

T was a visiting day at the Redfield Asylum for the Insane.

The lawns were green with a fresh growth of grass quickened from the parched earth by the cool September rains of a week before and there was a golden glow in the air, making the afternoon like a backward glance of summer, a parting smile which held a promise of return.

Groups of visitors sauntered about the main building, where a subdued light stole through the whitened windows, bringing no hint of the shimmering green and blue world outside. A slight odor of soap and disinfectant lurked in the corners. The place was quiet, spotless and dull; but an occasional giggle from two girl visitors sent a shivering sound through the white gloom which brooded over everything like a decayed peace.

Gilbert Lee was a young reporter. He had drifted in, hoping to pick up odd threads of fact to be woven on the loom of his imagination into a story. For a short time he followed a small group of people who were being shown about by an attendant. Then, feeling chilled and depressed, he left the building and wandered idly under the trees until he reached a rustic seat overlooking the river.

An elderly man was seated there. With a courteous gesture he invited Gilbert to join him, and they talked together until the river lost its silver flashes and reddened beneath the rays of the westerly sun.

As he listened Gilbert felt an almost mesmeric influence steal over him, a glowing sensation like the warmth of a golden fire. The stranger seemed to possess that wonderful gentleness which does not mean weakness, but is the flower of hidden strength. His gray eyes had a far-seeing look, a strange gleam, as if they glimpsed a world beyond the stars and caught some of their radiance. His hair was white, dead white from which the sun availed no luster. His soft, musical voice had a thrilling, vibrant quality, and Gilbert found himself comparing it to an amber necklace he had once admired in a jeweler's: gorgeous, golden beads resting on a velvet mat.

The old man's conversation was vital, sparkling with epigrams, and touched on all topics of the day, from the European war to the latest popular novel.

Suddenly he rose from the seat and left his dangled litter without a word. Gilbert involuntarily rubbed his eyes, and hearing approaching steps on the gravelled path looked up to see one of the asylum keepers regarding him with the dumb, questioning expression one often sees in the eyes of a Jew.

"Who is he? Surely not an inmate?" Gilbert asked in bewilderment.

The man glanced at his watch. "I think there is time for the story. His name is John Warren. He was one of the cleverest lawyers of his day. His career was like a golden-ringed ladder, and he climbed from one success to another. Then came the—Randall trial."

"The Randall trial?" repeated Gilbert. "Randall killed his wife, didn't he?"

"Perhaps he did. It was a queer case. At any rate, Randall had Warren on his side. The trial dragged on for months. Shortly before the end, Warren's little girl, his only child, was taken seriously ill. All his spare hours were spent at her bedside. She couldn't bear to have him out of her sight. Still, his sleepless, anxious nights didn't seem to affect his work. He lost none of his force. His cross-examinations were brilliant, caustic, severe. But I heard him tell his partner that all through the long days in the courtroom he was continually hearing the plaintive voice of his little child calling for him. During that week his hair turned white."

"Randall knew the strain he was under and begged him to drop the case or have it adjourned; but it had reached a critical point, and with Warren there was no turning back."

"The crisis came the night before he was to address the jury. The child fell asleep in his arms and he refused to have her disturbed. All night he held her. Sleep was her only chance."

"Toward morning he fell into a doze. When it was time for him to go to court they wakened him, and he found the child in his arms—dead."

"His speech to the jury was a blaze of eloquence. It made me think of a fire sweeping through a forest. Suddenly he paused in the middle of a sentence, brushed his hair from his forehead with the back of his hand and began Christ's Sermon on the Mount."

"They heard him through to the end, and the prosecuting attorney sprang forward and caught him as he fell. A few weeks later they brought him here."

"He seems sane enough now," ventured Gilbert.

"Yes," the man agreed. "So sane that prominent lawyers come here to confer with him. Two years ago he was examined by alienists. All pronounced him sane and his release papers were made out. He had to affix his name to some documents, and when he had blotched his signature they saw that he had written 'Jesus Christ'."

The man's voice became low and reverent.

"There are times when he realizes his condition. I am always with him then; and it seems to me that I am looking upon another Gethsemane."

Purple shadows crept over the sky and the crimson light in the West sank like a lowered flag. A cold, mist-laden wind came up from the river. The leaves shivered overhead.

Gilbert stood up. "What became of Randall? He was acquitted, wasn't he?"

"I'm Randall."

THIS reminds me of some of the poems I have dashed off for the magazine nowadays," observed the man who was viewing the parades of the Pugnacious Preparedness League.

"On account of the rhythm, I suppose," he noted his friend.

"On account of the irregular lines,"

"you face," replied the Princess.
